MANDATORY ABUSE REPORTING

As a Chrysalis team member there may be times during the course of the weekend when one or more youth participants, referred to as "caterpillars," will come to you to share, to talk, or to have someone who will just listen to them. Chrysalis is a very powerful weekend, filled with many different emotional experiences. A caterpillar may come to you with something of a sensitive nature, and they might tell you things that they have never told anyone before.

We must remember however, that as much as we want to be available to these people, we are not trained counselors. If a caterpillar comes to you with a situation that makes you feel uncomfortable, you should let them know that, and suggest that they talk with one of the spiritual directors. For example, you could say "I don't feel like I'm the correct person to help you with this problem. Would you like to talk with a spiritual director? If you'd like, I am willing to go with you."

A situation may arise in which you strongly feel the person will be in danger upon returning from the weekend or is currently in danger. Situations such as these must be brought to the attention of a spiritual director. If someone is possibly in a dangerous situation, legally you cannot perform counseling beyond this point and a professional counselor (Clergy) MUST be consulted. Example: Say something to the effect of, "I want you to know at this point I am required to share this with the spiritual director because I think you are in danger. Would you like to go and do that now? I'm willing to go with you to talk to them if you would like, but even if you don't, I'm required to share this with one of them."

Unfortunately, we may have caterpillars in these situations on our week-ends and we need to do our best to protect them. Through Christ, we can set a positive example and be a friend. Some of them may never have experienced true Christian love before and we want to continue to draw them to it. However, we cannot let them stay in a dangerous situation. Look to Christ to lead you, pray with the caterpillar, help them turn it over to Christ, to let go and let God.

I understand the procedures and agree to comply with this mandatory reporting policy.
